VJ Electronix Appoints Leo Zou as South China Applications Engineer

April 2012 — VJ Electronix, Inc., the leader in rework technologies and global provider of advanced X-ray inspection systems, is pleased to announce the appointment of Leo Zou as Applications Engineer based in Shenzhen, South China.

Mr. Zou brings years of technical expertise with prior experience working as an Applications Engineer at ERSA and Process Engineer at Foxconn. Located in Shenzhen, Leo will focus on support for local customers on VJE equipment, including the new SRT Micra rework system, the flagship Summit 1800, and Vertex X-ray inspection.

Leo will report to Vincent Wu, VJ Electronix's China Sales Manager. He will be responsible for on-site customer support as well as managing VJE's new demo site at the Techwin Precision facility, Weiye Chuangxin Industrial Park in Shenzhen.

"VJ Electronix continues to enhance its customer focus in 2012. Leo will help our customers succeed as they take on new technological challenges," said Ron Lindell, VJ Electronix's Director of Sales and Marketing.
